South Trimble, of Frankfort, is conceded to be a winner in the race for clerk of the next House.

The Democrats had a great time, at Baltimore Tuesday night celebrating the victories of last November.
Champ Clark, Gov. Harmon and Joe Blackburn were among the chief orators.

It is by no means certain that the proposed joint debates between Senator McCreary and Congressman Johnson will be held. There is a hitch in the arrangements of preliminaries.

Governor-elect Ben. W. Hooper, Republican, will be inaugurated at Nashville Jan. 25, with much pomp and ceremony. An agreement has been made that no obstructive tactics will be employed by the Democrats.

Prof. Barksdale Hamlett, Hopkinsville's candidate for State Superintendent of schools, is making many friends in the purchase. The Paducah News-Democrat says: "The press of the state has been specially kind to Prof. Hamlett and the general encouragement which he is receiving from every section of the state, proves conclusively that he is a formidable candidate in the race for this important office. He is eminently qualified for the position which he seeks and his record as an educator has been one of uninterrupted success. It is due to him that the handsome new Christian county and Hopkinsville High School building is now a permanent reality, having been erected under the Sullivan Law at a cost of $100,000.

The American Magazine.

The general excellence of The American Magazine is what appeals to the reader. Experts in the business say that no periodical now published is attracting more attention, or winning more enthusiastic approval, than The American Magazine. It is a publication which exhibits unusual energy, liveliness, candor, courage, and humor. No one who reads it can ever forget its distinctive qualities. It is as much of a "character" as exists anywhere—and a most intelligent and delightful "character" too.

One of the great achievements of The American Magazine is its contribution to national journalism through its important and authoritative fact-articles, now running, by Ida M. Tarbell, Ray Stannard Baker, A. J. Neck and other writers, all of whom are the ablest experts in the country in their special fields.

Another remarkable characteristic of The American Magazine is the quality of its fiction, plus the story quality that is to be found in many of its articles. By this is meant the fact that this particular periodical requires that many of its most important articles to be in story form.
In this manner the pages of the whole magazine fairly teem with downright human interest. The facts are gathered and presented with the most scrupulous attention to truth, but in the presentation the art of story-telling is summoned, and the result is the finest quality of journalism that exists—that which both informs exactly and entertains wonderfully. Not many journalists of this rare double ability are strolling up and down the world, yet several of them are in the exclusive employ of The American Magazine.

Three great original departments have been created by the American Magazine—"Interesting People,"
"The Interpreter's House" and "The Pilgrims' Scrip." Any particular number of the magazine may contain a wonderful fiction story, or a beautiful picture, or a great article that will interest you more than these departments. And yet those famous departments form a great attraction in the periodical. They are always there—filled to the brim with ideas, emotions, and aspirations. There is a curious flavor in them—singularly new, pleasing and genuine.

On the whole The American Magazine is winning great favor because of its sound tone of real optimism—not silly, flat and fake optimism; but that optimism which is founded on the solid truth that you ought to do your job well wherever you are, and that if you do your job well you will get some sort of a reward for it here on earth—not necessarily money (which most of us foolishly use as the only yardstick of success), but perhaps an inner feeling of satisfaction which, if your skin is not too tough, may be transferred and exhibited in a gentle face—something decent to look at, and not calculated to scare all the affection out of those who come into daily contact with you.

This is a poor and inadequate statement which only partially covers the ground. It is only meant to be a sort of reflection on what seems to be the moving spirit back of the American Magazine. It is nothing but impression which the writer feels after reading and enjoying The American Magazine for a year or more.

BUYS FINE JACKS

Capt. J. W. Riley Purchases
Blue-Blooded Animals.

Capt. J. W. Riley, of Newstead, has returned from Southern Tennessee, where he bought two very fine jacks to add to his stock farm. One of these is one of the noted taxpayer strain and the price was away up in figures. It is probably the most expensive jack ever brought to Christian county.

I would rather trust a judge that loves apples than one that hankers after bear meat.

Could Not Write.

Versailles, Ky.—Mrs. Elissa Green of this place, says, "I could not write all the different pains I had, when I first tried Cardui. I could scarcely walk. Now I am able to run the sewing machine and do my work; and my neighbors tell me the medicine must be good, for I look so much better." Cardui is a specific, pain-relieving, tonic remedy, for women. In the past 50 years, it has been found to relieve women's unnecessary pains and female misery, for which over a million suffering women have successfully used it. Try Cardui for your troubles. It will help you. At the nearest drug store.

A $70,000 PEARL

Flawless Gem Recently Exhibited In Bond Street.

According to an English newspaper, London has missed the opportunity of acquiring one of the finest pearls in the world.

This specimen, which is said to be worth £14,000 (70,000), and was recently on exhibition in the window of a well known Bond street jeweler, has been sent to America. The pearl is about the size of a pea, and is absolutely flawless. In commenting on this one of the members of the firm that sold it said:

"The reason so many pearls have flaws is because when the oyster opens a little sand is apt to get into it, and this coming in contact with the pearl which is forming inside the shell, is liable to scratch it. Pearls generally are rising in price all the time, but this $70,000 specimen is the highest value of which I am aware."

Geo. W. Crenshaw.

Mr. Geo. W. Crenshaw, one of the best young merchants Cadiz has turned out in many years, has severed his connection with the mercantile interest there and moved to Hopkinsville to make his home. He is associated with J. H. Anderson & Co. in their dry goods department.
Mr. Crenshaw is a son of Dr. J. W.
Crenshaw and the Kentuckian takes much pleasure in welcoming him to the city.

Governor Offers Reward.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 18.—Gov.
Wilson today offered a reward of $500 for the arrest and conviction of each and every member of the mob which lynched two negroes at Shelbyville early Sunday morning. The Governor said today he knew nothing of the whereabouts of the negro West, who is now generally believed to have escaped from the mob.

The Kentuckian

Bargain Subscription Offer

One Day Only—January 30, 1911

We are pleased to announce our fourth Annual Bargain Subscription Day Offer. One day each year for the past four years, we have arranged with the Louisville Herald to set aside one day and to make special price, whereby we could offer the Kentuckian and their paper for about the regular price of their paper.

Hundreds of our readers take a daily paper as well as ours in order to keep fully abreast of the news of the world—those who do not should do so.

It is under a new manager and as good as it has always been; it is better today than ever.

It is a clean family sheet, allowing no objectionable advertisements of any kind to be published.

It has Associated Press telegraphic news of the world; it has amusing pictures from its own cartoonist every day, splendid half-tone pictures showing local and world events, and a fearless, independent editorial page, always fair and interesting even to those who differ politically with the editorial opinion.

The regular price of the Daily Herald is $3 a year by mail, and the regular price of our paper is $2 a year by mail. By a special arrangement we are able to make the wonderful offer of The Louisville Daily Herald, Regular Price $3.00 a Year.

The Kentuckian, Regular Price $2.00. Total.....$5.00.

BOTH FOR $3.75

If subscription is received at our office not later than January 30, 1911. Positively no subscription will be accepted at less than the regular price if received in envelope postmarked later than January 30th. Send U. S. or express money order, bank draft or currency in registered letter.

Subscriptions for either paper may be new or renewal, and will date one year from January 30, 1911, or one year from the date at which present subscriptions expire. If you have paid up your subscription for our paper, you may may send $2 for subscription to The Herald alone.
